Writing Prompt: Using at least three examples from the close reading and class discussions, write an essay that answers the following question: To what extent was the struggle for marriage equality a continuation of the earlier Civil Rights Movement?

Your essay will be graded on how accurately it presents the significance of the events, people, and ideas discussed in the unit on the struggle for marriage equality. Your essay will also be graded on how well your argument/thesis and conclusion are written, incorporation of academic vocabulary, proper grammar and sentence structure, and essay organization.
